

Follow in the footsteps of ancient Romans at Vindolanda. Regarded as one of Europe's most exciting archaeological sites Vindolanda lies nestled in the picturesque Northumberland National Park and has a world class museum with a treasure trove of artefacts uncovered from the site.

Need to know

Address

Chesterholm Museum, Bardon Mill, Hexham, Northumberland, NE47 7JN

What3Words Locator

houseboat.greeting.overgrown

Opening/Operating Times

09:30-17:00

Feb-December

Trade Information

Large site and world class museum. Steep hill between Fort and museum. Café facilities at museum end of the site.

Pricing

£15 per adult.

Payment

Credit terms 30 days.

Good to know

Best Time To Visit

During peak season April-September our busiest times are between 11am and 3pm.

Average time on site

Suggest 2 hours + to experience the fort and museum.

Min & Max Numbers

No time slots. No max numbers. Café capacity (indoors) 50 people, cannot be pre-booked.

Upsells available

Luxury packed lunches can be pre-ordered.

Additional discount on group price if visiting Roman Vindolanda Fort & Museum and the Roman Army Museum & Magna Fort

Did you know?

Don't miss!

The Museum! See the Vindolanda Writing Tablets: Britain's Top Treasure. Also a collection of over 5,000 ancient leather shoes.

Interesting local facts

Between April and September you can witness live archaeology taking place.

Vindolanda was built over 40 years before Hadrian's Wall and occupied by the Romans for nearly 400 years.

Active archaeological site which is run by an independent charity. Lies 1 mile south of Hadrian's Wall as is part of the Hadrian's Wall World heritage Site.

Who to know

Lucy Dracup, Booking Officer

01434 344277

Lucy.dracup@vindolanda.com